STONEWARE POTTERY – Functional hand thrown pottery, often woodfired. Through my unfussy methodology and simple aesthetic I aim to capture the process of making within the finished piece.

R NW (Studio exterior is accessible by wheelchair + there is accessible parking. However, there is a step up into the studio itself. Weather permitting pottery will be viewable on a table outside.)

I am a self-taught part-time potter, working in my garden studio and, although I have recently started experimenting with electric-fired glazes, I mainly fire with the Sherwood Forest Woodfirers. I make functional domestic ware, which I hope will bring enjoyment to people in daily use around their homes.
